

Designer: SCENE SHANG

The 1930s, Shanghai's Golden Age. Booming business and flourishing trade stretched bustling days into long nights, and bankers found themselves cajoling numbers by the light of incandescent lamps soothed by emerald green shades. These lamps were so ubiquitous on their desks, they were named bankers' lamps.

The Banker Desk Lamp brings back a classic with a modern touch. Simplified in its symmetry, with a marble base for an unmistakable touch of luxe and a power cord clothed in a black-and-white weave for that old-school touch. Great for shedding some light on your work or bedtime reading or as a beautiful gift for your loved ones.

This is a Limited Edition.
