

Designer: SUGO

Guilin is known to be a stunning region in China for its unique scone-shaped mountains. Inspired by this otherworldly landscape, the Guilin Lamp consists of a rectangular steel base that is embedded with LED lightings, with laser-sliced acrylic panels (referred to as "hills" by SUGO team) in a variety of textures and finishes that can be placed freely over the grooves on top of the base. Once switched on, the light will absorb the vertical illumination into its laser pantograph lines and mimic a glowing mountain. Each "mountain" has the ability to purify the environment with its NASA tested photocatalytic acrylic screens.
