

Designer: SHARMAINE KWAN ART

Xiàn Sù Bào Pǔ (見素抱樸), literally translates to "admire silk that has not been dyed and embrace wood that has not been carved". The idiom encourages us to maintain simplicity and reduce our desires for a lifestyle that is comfortable at heart.

Neon signs are a significant part of Hong Kong's culture and visual identity. Their eye-catching and captivating aesthetic is often used for commercial purposes, for instance in the case of shop signs.

The artist uses glaring neon signs to communicate and call attention to the wisdom of Chinese sayings, idioms, and seals.

Dimensions: L40 x W5 x H40 cm

Primary Material: Acrylic

Primary Color: Black

Customization: Dimensions, colors, sizes and designs can be customized if needed.

Acrylic backing can be black or transparent. LED neon light comes in various colors depending on the design, can be custom made.

Please contact

cs@vermillionlifestyle.com to order your bespoke customization.