Bonsai is a decorative piece that showcases a traditional motifs in contemporary materials. The cherry blossom tree symbolizes spring, renewal, and transience.

The silhouette is in acrylic. Prints on leaves and trunks are more realistic and detailed. The leaves and branches are partially retrofitted to create a three-dimensional effect, and the clear material is exposed to light, creating shading in the color of the leaves. The box is made of paulownia wood, which also serves as the packaging and base, and is covered with the supplied white gravel, with an acrylic base for the lid, on which the assembled tree stands.
