The giant panda is the rarest member of the bear family and is considered to be China's national treasure. With a diet mostly consisting of bamboo, pandas have large distinctive black patches around their eyes, over their ears and across their body. In Chinese, their name translates to 'bear cat'.

The Lucky Panda Double-Sided Cushion Cover is an homage to the cuddly animal.

G.O.D.'s signature print cushions can be mixed and matched to add a bright centerpiece on a plain color sofa or bedspread.
