The Ancient Chinese were inspired by nature to shape the rims of dining vessels into flowers. This Blue Dye Flower-Rimmed Plate is a reimagined version of the classic flower rim, with its edges and curves arranged in a pattern going in the same direction, just like a flower in full bloom. The gradient blue color spreads around the edges, giving the plate a 3-dimensional effect and an elegant visual quality.

The bone powder content for the plate is 43%, which far exceeds the international bone china standards.
