With subtle swirls that seem almost like waves, this Blue Dye Cup without handle is a quiet yet thoughtful addition to the modern daily life as it adds a bit of movement with its simplicity and gentleness that you can't help but reach out to feel.

The bone powder content for each cup is 43%, which far exceeds the international bone china standards. Compared to ordinary white porcelain, bone china is light and thin, delicate and translucent, with a crisp, clear sound when tapped and twice as hard as everyday porcelain.
