

Designer: SUMPHAT GALLERY

Sumeru is a new facet of ancient khao mor (a manmade mountain usually found in the old gardens of Siamese royals and nobles) in a modern shape. The multiple mouths of the vase offer different ways to display floral arrangements, depending on one's mood.

Each item is made to order and handmade by a specific individual artisan.

Dimensions: L28 x W24 x H65 cm

Note: If your total order from Sumphat Gallery results in packaging that is larger than 1 cubic meter, they will need to use a crate to pack the products together for a packaging fee of US$195. Vermillion's Client Services team will contact you should this be applicable to your order.

Primary Material: Ceramics

Primary Color: White

Customization: This product is not customizable.